THE WEEKLY VOLUME;
A Select Circulating Library for town and country.

On the first Wednesday of January, 1845, Will be published at Philadelphia the first number of Smith's Weekly Volume, a Select Circulating Library for the town and county, on the plan of Waldie's at a greatly reduced price, of a large size and new type.—Conducted by the original, and, for the first seven years, the sole editor of Waldie's Library and to be published by his so Since the discontinuance of "Wa die," occasioned the derangements the currency, and since the death Mr. Waldie in '40, the editor has bee constantly reminded by numerous o subscribers and friends that the pla of publishing books cheeply, in a form to go by mail so long popular, an which he was the first to suggest an carry out, a plan which has afforded a immense class of educated individua a mental resource adapted to their taste was still a great unsuplied public wan The time has arrived when he feels ca ed upon to select for families and ind viduals good and popular books. The mass of ephemeral literature which has lately been poured upon us in a still in creasing flood, while it has perplexe the many, has, in the opinion of the r flecting, vitiated the literary atmo phere by indiscriminately seizing upo good, bad and indifferent works, an often leaving untouched the mor pleasing and gratifing production European pens. We now offer-

1. A reduction of one half the cos and the same account of reading matter.

II. Increased facilities and better arrangements than formerly for the reception of new books from Europe.

III. The same determination on the part of the editor to furnish families with attractive and unobjectionable books, criticism, original and selected and literary intelligence, domestic and foreign.

IV. An ample cash capital provided to ensure the continuance of the work V. A publisher thoroughly acquain ted with accounts, who, not destracted by the harassing cares of a large printing office, will devote his entire attention to the demands of sabscribers.

VI. The machinery and facilitie of one of the best and most extensive printing offices in the Union.

With this enormous reduction of cost, the editor and publisher believe that the advantages which this periodical presents to heads of families and others who desire a wholesome source of innocent and ennobling entertainment and instruction is unrivalled.—For a cent a day, postage included, we supply at least a duodicimo book every week to a whole family.

Our plan embraces the publication of the newest and best books in the various departments of Travels, Voyages, Novels, Tales, Sketches, Biography, and Memoirs; in short, the whole range of polite literature, and including translations made expressly for the work.

TERMS:

"The Weekly Volume, or Select Circulating Library," will be printed on a double super-royal sheet, sixteen pages quarto, three columns on each, and mailed weekly with great care so as to carry with perfect safety to the most distant post office.

 Journal of Belles Letters By thus increasing the size of the paper, we occupy, without decreasing the quantity of book-matter, the two first pages as a Journal of Belles Letters, formerly printed as a cover.

The whole will be printed and finished with the same care and accuracy as book work,

The price is four dollars for fifty-two numbers of sixteen quarto pages each.

A club of three for ten dollars, or $3,33 each.

A club of five for fifteen dollars, or $3 each.

PROSPECTUS OF THE OHIO STATE JOURNAL,

SESSION PAPER, FOR 1844-'5. For the first time for [many years, there is a whig majority in both branches of the Legislature of Ohio. This major-ity is ample, and throws the responsibility of what may be done, almost entirely on the whigs as a party. This fact invests the proceedings of the coming session with extraordinary interest. The eyes and hopes of the peeple will be fixed on the deliberations of the majority. They will enter on their duties conscious of this fact, and with a full sense of their responsibility. They will act firmly and boldly, with a steady reliance on the purity of their intentions. They will not hesitate to do what they believe to be right, however loud the clamors of their opponents. The people will stand by them. Of this they have given a sufficient guarantee by the verdict of the ballot-box.— Under such circumstances we cannot but rejoice in the position of the whige of Ohio. They are triumphant, and they have the power to entrench themselves in the confidence of the people and es-tablish permanently a wise and sound policy for the State. They can break down forever the rule of a corrupt set of demagogues who have trifled with the interests and feelings of the people for many long & weary years; and they will de it. They can rescue the honor and credit of the State from impending ruin; and they will do. They can give us hon-est, wise and faithful officers; and they will do it. With the General Government, administered with whig principles, they could do all and more than any have anticipated; with that against us, they have still the power of staying the downward progress of our beloved State. We cannot be mistaken in supposing that the whigs of Ohio will avail them-- selves of an opportunity of scanning the proceedings of the next Legislature. We propose giving them such an opportunity, through the medium of a Daily Session Paper; and we do so with confidence that the session journal will have a larger circulation than any central paper has ever before had in the State of Ohio. We pledge ourselves that the Journal shall give full, faithful and early reports of the doings of both Houses, and that the general politics and the local and general news of the day, (including Congressional proceedings) shall be furnished to our readers as early as through any ether medium. Our arrangements are such, as we feel assured, will be satisfactory; and we confidently appeal to the whigs of the State to render us a liberal patron-

SATURDAY....JAN. 4, 1845.

AN APOLOGY,

We owe an apology to our subscribers, for the amount of old advertisements that have been in the last three or four No's of our paper-it has been unavoidable. This No. is the last of the Delinquent List, and most of the old advertisements; after this we shall be able to give more reading matter.

SMITH'S WEEKLY VOLUME.

We have received the 1st and 2d No's of "The Weekly Volume," (published in Philadelphia.) The object of the work (to wit, to publish new and useful books in a cheap form,) we think is a good one; and from what we have seen of the first No's, we think it bids fair to be a cheap and useful publication. Prospectus on the first page.

The Hon. Peter Hitchcock was, on the 27th ult., elected Judge of the Supreme Court, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge LANE.

At the same time, John L. Taylor wes elected Major General of the 16th Division Ohio Militia.

A HOAX.

The account we gave in our last, (and which has been going the round of the papers) concerning the bloody riot at the Red Oak Settlement, in Brown county, Ohio, between the Kentuckians and the Abolitionists, turns out to be a hoax. Nothing of the kind took place.

NORTH CAROLINA-TEXAS.

The House of Representatives of N. Carolina (a large majority being Whig) has voted down a resolution in favor of the Annexation of Texas. The following is the Resolution:

"Resolved, That in our opinion the territory of Texas ought to be annexed to the United States as speedily as possible, provided the same can be effected without any compromise of the rights, interest, and honor of the Union."

Even thus guarded by a proviso against the commitment of the national honor, &c., this resolution, after a protracted debate, was rejected by a vote of 62 to 119.

CONGRESSIONAL MAJORITY

Last week the vote for members of Congress from this State was opened and offi-cially reported. There were declared to be elected 13 Locofocos and 8 Whigs by the following majorities.

Mr. Kelley of F., from the standing committee on the Union, to which the subject had been referred, made report in re-lation to the resolution from the House recommending a certain day for the elec-tion of President of the United States with one amendment, striking out that part of the resolution which related to the practice of betting on elections, which was agreed to.

The following bills were read a third time and passed:

The bill to incorporate the Millville, Riley and Milton turnpike company. The bill authorizing the board of directors of the Steubenville, Cadiz and Cambridge McAdamized road to relinquish to the Commissioners of Jefferson county the right of way for a bridge over Crosscreek.
The bill to amend the act to incorporate the Marietta College.

A message was received from the House, stating their disagreement to certain amendments of the Senate made to the joint Rules for the Government of the General Assembly. Referred to the joint committee on Rules.

A resolution also came up from the House in relation to the present rate of postage and the franking privilege, which was referred to the committee on the ministration, is all that is necessary

The term of five years' probation was fixed during General Washington's administration in 1795. In Mr. Adams' Presidency, owing to the then existing jealousy of foreigners, it was extended to fourteen years. In Mr. Jefferson's Presidency it was restored to five years, where it has ever since remained. Senators on the other side, who hold up Mr. Jefferson' policy as the model policy of the land. would do well to consider a proviso intro duced into the naturalization laws during the first year of Mr. Jefferson's administration. Probably a recurrence to this proviso would answer the ends of the res olution now under consideration. This provise enacted that all foreigners should apply to a special court and be registered, and that such register should describe the person, and state the age, the name, and the country of the party, and that this record should be the only admissible evidence of the identity of the party applying for citizenship.

What was done under Mr. Madison? It was ordered that no certificate of naturalization should be regarded as valid to afford an opportunity for members unless it contained this record, and also resolutions, to do so. Objection being the record of the party's having declared made to the one he was then about to his preliminary intention. The yeas and Madison's provisions were repealed in 1824, and this was the fatal relaxation. Then succeeded the change from making the declaration of intention in open court, to a private application to the clerk of the court. Notice of previous intention was brought down from three years to two. In these changes and relaxation might, in a sufficient number had risen to dehis opinion, be traced the sources of the mand the yeas and nays, the motion evils complained of. All native born Americans and honestly and patriotically disposed naturalized citizens will unite in wishing that he was decidedly of opinion if the enactments passed during Jefferson's and Madison's administrations had not been subsequenily relaxed, we should still have enjoyed all the protection against abuse which was necessary. Mr. Rives concluded with a hope that his observations would furnish a common ground of action for the Senate, and lead to results acceptable alike both by native born and naturalized citizens.

Mr. Merrick said that this was not the time to enter into a general discussion of the subject; he hoped to have a full report mentative manner. from the able committee to which it would be referred. Much injustice had, he thought, been done to the foreign citizen; the abuses complained of had proceeded from the mal-administration of the native citizen: the fault is in the administration of the law, and not in the law itself. Let the evil be corrected where the evil exists. He hoped the report from the Committee on the Judiciary would allay the excitement, and satisfy the country.
