SCHISM IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Perhaps our readers may not all be aware of the extent to which the "Ronge schism" in the Catholic Church has reached. Its origin, it will be recollected, was as follows:—A little less than a year ago Arnoldi, Bishop of Treves in Germany, made a call upon all good Catholics, every where, to make pilgrimages to the Cathedral at Treves, to see a relic of the Saviour, being the identical coat without seam worn by him at the time of the crucifixion. Immense multitudes from all parts of Germany obeyed this call, and flocked to Treves to see the 'Holy Coat' which, the Bishop informed them, was endowed with the power of working miracles. The Bishop demanded admission money from the pilgrims, and in that way realized immense sums.—All this was denounced as imposture, by John Ronge, a Silesian Catholic priest, who preached with great vehemence and power against the pilgrimages, and against the Bishop and his pretended relic. All the efforts that could be made to silence Ronge proved ineffectual, and he was at last excommunicated from the Roman Catholic Church. This, however, only increased his energy and activity. Adherents soon began to rally around him, and measures were taken to establish an independent body, under the title of "The New Catholic Church." Unparalleled efforts have been made by the Old Church to crush this new movement, but all without effect. Already the New Catholic Church numbers more than Two Hundred Congregations in Germany, and the most intense excitement pervades the whole country. What the result will be, it is impossible to foretell. The fire of reformation thus lighted in Germany has extended to the United States, in various parts of which measures have been taken to organize Catholic congregations adhering to the New Church. In Cincinnati such a congregation has been organized, numbering One Thousand members.

The Rongites or New Catholics renounce the dominion of the Pope, and the doctrines of the celibacy of the clergy, and auricular confession. The Pope, prelates, &c., who wield the iron despotism of the Roman Catholic Church are exhibiting almost as much alarm as their predecessors did in the days of Martin Luther.

AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

The State Board of Agriculture had a meeting on the 22d ult. at Columbus. They determined to memorialize the Legislature, on the subject of the adoption of measures for agricultural improvement in this State. They also passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this Board do recommend to the farmers and mechanics of this State, to hold a convention and fair, at the city of Columbus, in the last week in September next. (The days on which it will be held will be determined at some subsequent meeting of the Board.)"

WEST POINT.—The annual examination of the cadets at West Point has closed. The graduating class numbered forty-one, the entering class ninety-two. Last year the number of graduates was only thirty.

For the purpose of facilitating the operations of the new postage law, the Secretary of the Treasury has drawn from the places of deposit 250,000 Mexican dollars, to be coined into dimes and half dimes.

The Commissioner of Patents gives notice, that after the 1st of July, when the new postage law goes into operation, no letter addressed to that office will be taken out unless the postage is paid.

The U. S. Journal says that there are more than twenty printers who are performing the duties of clerks in the departments at Washington, and that they are fully equal, if not superior to those who have had the advantages of a collegiate education.

CATHOLICS.—It is estimated that there are 1,400,000 Catholics in the United States. They have 21 dioceses, 475 churches, 22 ecclesiastical establishments, 28 literary institutions, 43 female academies, and 84 charitable institutions.

WHOLESALE SMUGGLING.—A short time since an extensive and most ingenious mode of smuggling was discovered in Muhlhausen, France. A number of rafts, (a great many of which are constantly floating down the canal from Basle, and other parts of Switzerland,) were coming down from Basle, when it was betrayed to the Inspector of Customs, that tin watertight cases of silk goods, were fastened to the bottom of the timber-rafts, and floated in safety to a French market. The custom house officers seized 20,000 francs worth of silks.

MOSES JOHNSON indicted at the last term of our Court, for the murder of Amos Rogers, plead guilty to manslaughter on Friday last and was sentenced by the Court to 4 years imprisonment at hard labor in the penitentiary. He accompanied Cox to Columbus on Tuesday last.—Olentangy Gazette.

DUELLING AT NASHVILLE.—The Nashville Union of the 13th inst. says: On Thursday a duel was fought in the vicinity of this city, between Mr. G. Alexander Ramsay and Mr. Augustin Mc Gruder, with pistols. At the second shot both gentlemen were wounded—Ramsay in the abdomen, and Mc Gruder under the left eye."

Neither wealth nor birth, but mind only should be the aristocracy of a free people.

Cox was tried on Saturday last, before our Court for burglary; the trial occupied the entire day, owing more to what the counsel had to say, than the witnesses; the jury were out but a very few minutes and returned a general verdict of guilty. He received his sentence on Monday morning, after a statement by his counsel, that he had avowed his determination to become a better man; he was sentenced by the Court to 8 years confinement at hard labor in the penitentiary, and was taken to Columbus Tuesday.—Olentangy Gazette.

TRUE PATRIOTISM.—Old John Banty had five sons in the field of battle at Bennington, and being told that he had been unfortunate in one of his sons, he replied, "What! has he misbehaved? did he desert his post, or shrink from the charge?" "No, sir," said the informant, worse than that—he is among the slain—he fell contending courageously in the good cause." "Then I am satisfied," replied the good old man, "bring him in that I may behold him, and survey the darling of my soul." On which the corpse was brought in and laid before him. He called for a bowl of water and a napkin and with his own hands washed the gore and dirt from his own son's corpse, and wiped his gaping wounds, with a complacency, as he himself expressed it, which before he had never felt or experienced.

HANGING.—The following story is in Spooner's Vermont Journal of March 24th, 1793.

In the American Army under Gen. Lincoln, in 1772, while he lay at the Three Sisters, on the south side of the Savannah river, to cover South Carolina from the British troops, who had at that time reduced Georgia, an American soldier having been apprehended in attempting to join the British was ordered to be hanged. He was accordingly hanged to a tree. After remaining suspended a few seconds, the rope broke, and he fell to the ground. Being restored to animation by proper assistance, he earnestly entreated to be forgiven. A Col. Mason, who commanded on this disagreeable duty, informed General Lincoln of what had happened. The Gen. desired him to double the rope and try if that would not hang him. This was done, and he was hung up a second time; when, after swinging about half a minute, to the astonishment of the spectators, first one strand of the rope gave way and then the other, and fell once more to the ground. Being brought to life again, he renewed his earnest entreaties to be pardoned; and upon a representation to the Gen. that the rope was insufficient to hang the man, even doubled, and that there was no other to be had, he ordered the deserter to be drummed out of the camp, with the noose about his neck. Upon that two of the heaviest men of the guard who attended him, either of whom were heavier than the prisoner, begged leave to try the strength of the rope; and untwisting the double of it, each suspended himself by his arms by the single strand, while able to keep his hold, and the rope did not break.

If you have contracted an injudicious friendship let it sink gently and gradually.

REWARD FOR OLIVE BRANCHES.—The Boston Transcript says, a novelty in the way of agricultural exhibitions of late is the presentation of children for premiums, at a recent agricultural fair at Burlington, Vt. Mr. L. Chase presented for premium three pretty female children, two and a half years old, born at a birth. The committee on household manufactures awarded him $14—which was voluntarily contributed by the old bachelors present, who said they considered him a legitimate object of charity.

LAKE DEFENCES.—The government is concentrating some heavy guns here for lake defence. Twenty long guns, 32 pounders, were received here from Pittsburg, some weeks since, and last week ten Paixhan 64 pounders were landed at the foot of Main street, which were yesterday being removed.

The whole of these, we understand, is for lake defence, being ship guns; and shot and shells in due proportion have been sent on with them. As the garrison has been removed from here, all these have been placed in the charge of Col. McKay, who has provided a place for their present deposit and protection.—Buffalo Pilot.

AFFECTING INSTANCE OF ATTACHMENT IN A DOG.—A little girl, the only and well beloved child of her parents, who are residents of Brooklyn, Long Island, died a few weeks since, and was interred in the private family burying ground. A large Newfoundland dog, the private companion and playmate of the child, was frequently missing from the house after the funeral. When seen, he was observed to de crest fallen and drooping, he refused his food, moped, and lost flesh day by day. These circumstances exciting curiosity, the animal was watched, and followed in his stealthy excursions, and it at length appeared, that he went daily to the grave of his former friend and playmate deposited, at each visit, some of the child's play-things, obtained secretly from the house, on the grassy mound that covered her remains, in the vain hope of alluring her to his side again, and then lay down, and passed hour after hour, moaning and whining piteously. His master was obliged finally to chain up the animal, to put an end to his melancholly vigils, the continuance of which would have cost the faithful mourner his existence. A more touching instance of devotion and attachment, has rarely fallen beneath our notice.

BEEF AND PORK PACKING IN CLEVELAND.—The season of slaughter has commenced; our packers are brandishing their knives in right good earnest, and a heavy season's business is anticipated. The principal packing houses are J. & J. Ross, who have one contract of 1500 hogs, and have on hand some three hundred head of cattle; N. C. Baldwin, who will pack from 3 to 5000 head of beef; Wm. Lemen, who has on hand 600 head of beef;—Barber, 2000 beef and 500 hogs; Stedman, amount not known; and Haskell, whose establishment we have not yet visited.

Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FLOUR—Was dull yesterday (says the Cincinnati Gazette of the 3d) at any thing above $4:00 per barrel, tho' at that it would have been brisk. After closing our report on Saturday afternoon, 100 barrels Country sold from store at $4:25, and 1500 brls. City, in two lots, sold at $4:00 in the mill.—The sales yesterday were 150 brls. Country at $4:00, inspected; 200 brls. at $4:00, clear; and 125 at $4:15, clear. A sale of 24 brls from wagon is reported at $4:50 clear, and one of 190 brls. from store at $4:12½.

MORE IMMIGRANTS.—The Ohio Union says, that an agent is in Cincinnati, from Europe, 'who reports that a company of Prussians—about 30,000 in number—are preparing to immigrate to this country, and the location now fixed upon for settlement, is Iowa.'

A skeleton has been found in Alabama, which weighs over 1500 pounds. A scientific gentleman who has examined it, pronounces it to be the skeleton of a man. There were giants in those days, and no mistake about it.

The Arkansas Intelligencer, published at Van Buren, says that the military works at Fort Smith are rapidly progressing. Fort Gibson is very sickly. The detachment of the second regiment of U. S. Dragoons, stationed at Fort Washita, have left for Texas.

IMAGINATION.—The living console themselves by the honors which they pay to the dead; and yet this deceit is not all in vain. Every feeling that looks to the future, elevates human nature; for life is never so slow or so little as when it concentrates itself on the present. The miserable wants, the small desires, and the petty pleasures of daily existence, have nothing in common with those mighty dreams which, looking forward for action's reward, redeem the earth over which they walk with steps like those of an angel, beneath which, spring up luxurious and immortal flowers. The imagination is man's noblest and most spiritual faculty; and that ever dwells on the time to come.

All the Sheriffs of New Jersey will be thrown out of office this week by the change in the election law of that State, which transfers the election from the second Tuesday in October to the first Tuesday in November. They are elected annually, and their terms expire under the old law on the Monday following the second Tuesday in October. No provision having been made for the change in the law, there will be a vacancy until the next election under the new law, unless the Governor shall appoint, which he no doubt will do.

THE CATFISH STORY seems to be creating a prodigious sensation down south, and many unbelievers scoff at it. It is a fact nevertheless, that such a fish was caught hereabouts, and that upon a post mortem dissection, a pig of lead was found in the stomach. How it came there—probably the fish knew—it's none of our business at any rate. We cut the following from the Ottawa Free Trader:—[Bloomington (Iowa) Herald.

Weather, pleasant for the season.

A BIG FISH STORY.—The Quincy Whig saddles the following credible story on some of the merchants of that place. During the passage of the steamboat Falcon from Galena, by some accident, at or near Bloomington, two pigs of lead were lost overboard. Meanwhile the boat made one or two trips—during the last one, on which our merchants were passengers, the boat rounded to at Bloomington, and while waiting some one on the boat baited a line and threw it out, when lo! a monster fish seized the bait, and after much struggling was safely landed. He was so heavy that the clerk, for his own satisfaction, had him weighed, when it appeared that he weighed 202 pounds! The curiosity of the clerk was further aroused from the comparatively small size of the fish to the weight so heavy—and he forthwith cut the monster open, when, to the astonishment of every beholder, he disemboweled a pig of lead weighing 70 pounds!—and the Captain of the Falcon gave it as his belief that the pig of lead was the identical one lost from the boat on a previous trip!

If there is a man who can eat his bread at peace with God and man, it is that man who has brought that bread out of the earth. It is cankered by no fraud—it is wet by no tears—it is stained by no blood.—Exchange.

Don't know about that! Fine sentiment, but fine sentiment is not always strictly true. We know a fellow now in Iowa, who bought his farm with money stolen while he was a Sheriff; it is "cankered by fraud"—in disputing about title, a squatter licked him unmercifully; it is "wet by tears"—the first root he undertook to grub he missed and split his foot; it is "stained by blood."—Cin. Enq.

The editor of the Iowa Standard starts off with the following axiom: "Editors are but men after all." That's true, brother, very true.—From Louisiana to Maine, and from the Atlantic to the Lakes, it is just as you say, they are men "after all." But it is their own fault that they are men "after all." They are after their political opponents, and drive them furiously; and when the spoils of victory are thought of, the editor generally finds himself after all the rest, and, of course, too late.—Cin. Enq.
