Surveying.

Persons wishing to have surveying done by the County Surveyor, can have him notified of the fact, by the Editor, at the "Printing office."

Persons wanting surveying done which does not necessarily require the County Surveyor, can have it done by calling on C. S. Hamilton, who is prepared to attend to any business in this line.

Pork, Corn, Wood!

We wish that those of our subscribers who intend to pay their subscriptions in either of the above articles will do so by the first of January. It should not be expected that we will take produce if the fetching of it in should be delayed until after we have been compelled to spend cash for a supply. We intend to accommodate every one that we can, in taking our pay in produce, and we hope our subscribers will try to accommodate us to their produce at the time we want it and now is the time to lay things up in store.

Blanks.

We have on hand a beautiful and large lot of blank DEEDS AND MORTGAGES, which we will sell at 80 cents per quire when a quire is taken at one time. They will be sold cheap at retail. We have also a large lot of Justice's blanks—summons, subpoenas and executions. Justices would do well to call and buy a lot of these—as they would find them a great saving of labor.

Where a considerable lot of these, say a quire, are wanted, they can be afforded for half a cent a piece.

We are grieved to say that there is one line in our paper to-day that we wish was blotted out. We had no instrumentality in putting it there. While our outside form was being made up, and worked off, we were engaged in the Teachers' examination, and knew nothing of the matter until after the outside was entirely worked off. While we cannot find it in our heart to forgive the perpetrator, and do not ask others to forgive him, we pledge ourselves that the like shall not be done by any one in connection with this office more than ONCE, from this day forward!!

Mr. McNell's Speech.

We close to-day the very interesting speech of the County Auditor, which has made our fourth page so peculiarly attractive to our readers for the last four weeks. We shall be able after this to give more news, &c.

"Harry Birch."

To whom we feel indebted for his manly, high-toned communications from Columbus, will please mail any other matter that he may favor us with, during his stay in Columbus, so that it will come by Saturday's mail. We always did believe, and we still believe, that newspapers can be conducted without their editors, or their correspondents indulging in abusive epithets and small personalities; and we feel much obliged to "Harry" for getting up his letter in a spirit and style that tends to strengthen our convictions in this particular. The people have been entertained long enough with assertions for facts, "words for arguments, promises for conclusions," "sound and fury" for logic and eloquence, and overwhelming storms of lies and abuse for reason and truth.

We give to-day the proceedings of the democratic county convention, without note or comment. This is caused partly by a lack of space, and partly by a lack of time. Indeed any exhortations to constancy in, adhering to, and trying to advance the cause of democracy is rendered quite unnecessary, from us, since the convention has done up that part so nice. We refer our readers, Whig and Democratic, to the proceedings, in another column. We are right down glad to have the privilege of publishing democratic exhortations to democrats, for this is about as effectual a mode of arousing Whigs, as any other we can think of.

The Senate and Congress.

We have kept back our paper waiting for the mail, to give Monday's news from Washington and Columbus.

In Congress there have been 47 ballots for Speaker, and no choice. The last ballot was Winthrop 101, Boyd 86, Stevens 27, Potter 18, Stanley 66, Scatterling 17. The balloting on the last day, Saturday, passed off very quietly.

In the Senate of Ohio, at half past 4 o'clock, P. M., on Monday, says the Ohio State Journal, the 100th balloting was coming off, and no prospect of a choice of a Speaker. Gen. Randall has received 18 votes, for a great number of ballotings, and that is a majority of all that have a legal right to vote, yet the democratic chairman, Mr. Myers, persists in declaring that there is no choice!! If Ohio is not a despotism it is not for the want of despots.

Paragraphs for Democrats.

Many of our democratic friends appear to labor under the impression that "proscription," or in the language of "Father Ritchie's" "lamentations," the "ax," the "Guillotine," and other such horrifying weapons have been so industriously used by "Old Zach," that the last democratic Postmaster has long since been decapitated; and they are deeply sorrow-stricken on that behalf.

Indeed their pathetic appeals, and pitiful howlings and lamentations have so touched our heart, at times, that we have felt like "weeping with those that weep." However we concluded to gather up the facts in the case before we began to "boo hoo;" and the result of our gatherings is that the democracy have more cause to laugh than cry, about the doings of the Administration in this matter.

If any party has cause for "lamentation and weeping and great mourning," it is the Whig party. Poor fellows! they are to be pitied! They expected to get the offices, and with craving maws, and mouths agape, they stand, watching "Old Zach's" table, covered with official dainties, and, like starving dogs, they most submissively wag their tails, and imploringly lick their chops, and humbly beg for the crumbs of office, and—poor fellows, they don't get them.

But to the facts.—On the first of Nov. '49, there were in the U. S. 17,164 Post-offices. From the 4th of March to the 1st of Nov. inclusive, there were 808 P. O.'s established, 278 discontinued, and 181 changed sites; 139 P. Ms. died, 1862 resigned, and 2874 were removed! or in the language of the "Lamentors," "proscribed," "beheaded," "guillotined," "John Rogers-ed," &c.

Now after all these deaths, resignations, and removals, there remain in the hands of the democracy, to give comfort to their sorrowing souls, about 14,000 Post Offices!!

Will some of our democratic exchanges publish these facts for the consideration of their readers?

Government expenses.—"Let facts be submitted to a candid world."—and the people will draw proper conclusions. Our paper is so small as to admit of our arguing but few of the leading questions of the day. In fact we have no particular desire to do it. We are rather solicitous to present the facts involved in the various questions that may arise, and leave the people to argue the questions involved, and to draw their own conclusions.

Many of us are made to believe many falsehoods, by the misrepresentations of demagogues—many of whom are, no doubt, connected with the press. We hold that it is the interest of every man to be right, and that the really independent, high-minded, and patriotic man intends never to be wrong. We have no such vain confidence in ourselves, as to suppose that we never get wrong, or that we may not be wrong, and if any of our friends, Whig, Democratic, or "what not," think they detect us in false positions, or false statements, we shall feel greatly obliged to those who will show us our errors.

When people once are in the wrong, each line they add is one too long. Who fastest walks, but walks astray. Is always farthest from the way."

But hold! We sat down to write on politics, not morals. And it is commonly considered, and perhaps justly, that it is profanity to mix two things so antagonistic in their characters, as are politics and morals, as at the present day viewed. If so we beg pardon, on the score of not being fully initiated!

But let us do what we sat down to do; that is to give the facts as to the expenses of the General Government from the days of the "Greater" Adams down. We gather the facts as here presented, from an article in the Cincinnati Gazette. J. Q. Adams' administration.

4 years	$49,313,213
Jackson's first 4 years (a retrenchment administration)	$58,249,873
"2nd "	$87,130,428
Van Buren, 4 years,	$112,168,397
Harrison and Tyler, 4 yrs. about	$82,000,000
Polk, 4 years,	$146,921,402

In addition to this last sum there remained unprovided for, by Mr. Polk's administration, and which deficit "Old Zach" is compelled to charge himself with, and account for, the sum of $15,000,000. So that when we may hereafter have occasion to ascertain the expenses of the government under Taylor's administration, we must deduct $15,000,000 from the amount, the remainder will be the expenses proper.

Items for the Blood-thirsty.

MURDER.—Our exchanges are filled with the details of the murder of Dr. Parkman, a wealthy and highly respectable gentleman of Boston, Mass., aged 60 years, by, as is supposed, and of which there is almost indisputable circumstantial evidence, Dr. John W. Webster, Professor of Chemistry in the Medical School of Harvard College, a gentleman of high-standing, aged 55 years; has a very interesting family—3 daughters, young ladies—and connected by marriage with many of the most distinguished families of Boston.

Webster owed Parkman $450, about which there appears to have been some bad feeling between them, and Parkman was known, and seen to go at Webster's request, to the College on the 23rd ult. to get his money. This was the last seen of Parkman, until his remains were found, and identified (a part) in the vault, under the private laboratory of Professor Webster, in the basement of the building.

Webster was taken into custody, and lodged in prison to await his trial.

POSTUM, D. C. 15.

The Coroner's jury, over the body of Dr. Parkman, have rendered a verdict, on Thursday night, charging Prof. Webster with the murder.—O. S. Journal.

FATAL CASUALTY, alias UNMURDERED.—The last Hocking Republican says that "Mr. Francis Judah, a respectable citizen of this township was drowned in the canal last Friday night. When last seen on Friday evening he was pretty far gone in liquor, and it is supposed that he fell into the canal and was unable to help himself."

The Republican calls this a "fatal casualty." Which is it, a fatal casualty, or an unmurdered murder? Every time a rumrunner lets a man whom he knows to be in the habit of drinking, have liquor, he knows that he is endangering his life; and where he sells repeatedly to the same man, knowing he will get drunk, it looks to us like as if he had set to work premeditatedly, and fiendishly to murder his neighbor, in cold blood.

Mr. Republican, let us be careful to give things their right names. Actions and men should be properly classified. Murders should not be called casualties. Nor murderers doers of accidental crimes.

Columbus Correspondence.

Columbus, Friday, Dec. 14, 1849.

Friend Hamilton:—Since my last very little has been done in the House. On Monday (10th) the House met at ten o'clock and sat 18 minutes, and adjourned to Tuesday. At 10 o'clock on Tuesday (11th) met again and sat 8 minutes, when Mr. Long, loco, moved an adjournment to Wednesday. At 10 o'clock on Wednesday (24th) met and sat 9 minutes, and adjourned on motion of Mr. Holcomb, to Thursday; met at 10, and sat 33 minutes, and adjourned on motion of Mr. Riddle, (free soil.) On Friday (14th) met and sat 14 minutes, and on motion of Mr. Riddle, adjourned until Saturday. "Tis true the House can't do much until the Senate is organized, which will I think take place by Monday next, if at all. They were much excited yesterday and many were present expecting to see a resort to force, when argument and reason had failed. Happily the State has so far been spared the stigma of resorting to brute force and murderous weapons.

I think every fair proposition has been offered by the Whigs, for an organization, that could be claimed. It will be recollected that the House, last year, failed to organize, until they adopted the compromise offered by the free soil members, to wit: "That the two Locos and two Whigs claiming seats for the first district of Cincinnati, shall all stand aside until the question had been settled by the other 70 members of the House." This was agreed to, and all four of these claimants were denied seats in the organization of the House.

By a written agreement between the Whigs and Locos, before they attempted an organization of the House this session, the four claimants (2 Whigs and 2 Locos) from the first district in Hamilton county stood aside until their claims to seats had been decided on by a majority vote of all the other members present. This you will recollect is precisely the way the "New Jersey case" was settled (by two sets of claimants,) in Congress, some years since. And this is the offer made by the Whigs day after day, for the purpose of organizing the Senate,—to wit: "That Mr. Broadwell and Mr. Johnson shall both stand back until their claims to a seat shall be settled by the 35 other sworn members. Can any thing be more fair, equitable, and just? Does not a consciousness of their being in the wrong prevent them from submitting the controversy to the decision of the free soilers, (they having the balance of power,) who are wholly unconnected and independent of both the Whigs and Democrats? But the Locos contend that Johnson shall at all times vote to decide his own case, while the Whigs say that Broadwell's right to vote is equally as good as Johnson's, but that neither should vote in the decision of his own, or each other's case.

Yesterday the Whigs offered resolutions in the House, calling on the Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms for the number and names of their assistants." To-day they reported. The Clerk reported NINE assistant Clerks; and the Sergeant-at-Arms reported six assistants, and four messenger boys, to wait on members. All the assistants of the Clerk and Sergeant-at-Arms are each receiving three dollars per day. If we reckon the Clerk's wages at eight dollars per day, (the price Knapp got last year,) and the balance at $2.60 each, there being sixteen assistant Clerks and assistant Sergeants, and we find the State is paying $56.60 per day for men to do nothing; for so far one Clerk and one Sergeant could have done all.

Two boys would do far better than 4; for generally while the House is doing business the boys are playing, knocking off hats, pulling hair, throwing paper balls, running after each other, examining papers of members, leaning on your desk, writing with your pen, if laid down, &c., &c., &c., besides making "great noise and confusion," preventing members from hearing what is said.

The Whigs have also called for a statement of the cost of each session of the Legislature for the last ten years, with the names of the respective Clerks, Printers, &c., &c. They expect to prove by this, that the years the Locos had a majority, with a Loco Clerk, and Medary, printer, that the expenses were from $10,000 to $20,000 per year more, than when the printing was let to the lowest bidder, and they had Whig Clerks. But the report will soon be made when it will "speak for itself."

The Senate have just adjourned till tomorrow, spending the day in balloting for a Speaker.—The vote stood, 18 to 18. The Loco Chairman and Clerk refusing to receive Mr. Broadwell's vote, but always receiving Mr. Johnson's vote.

Yours in haste,

HARRY BIRCH.

Washington Correspondence.

We received last week, but too late for our paper, two letters from Messrs B. CORWIN, M. C., and though we are able to give much later news, we publish them, because they tend to show some light on things "down there," and because we know that many of his old friends will take more pleasure in seeing old news from him, than in receiving the latest by Telegraph. Hope he will favor us oftener.

WASHINGTON CITY, 4th Dec., 1849.

Editor of the Tribune:

Dear Sir:—The House of Representatives have again adjourned at 4 o'clock, P. M., without electing a Speaker. On this day 6 ballotings were had. Cobb, of Georgia, Democratic candidate, 90 votes; Winthrop, Whig, 97; Wilmer, Free Soil, 9; Gentry, 8—and so on. Mr. Gentry is voted for by a part of the Alabama and Georgia Delegation, (Whigs,) who desire the Northern Whigs to abandon the Wilmot Provision. This will never be done.

M. B. CORWIN.

WASHINGTON CITY, 7th Dec., 1849.

The House of Representatives after voting all day have adjourned without electing a Speaker. Mr. Winthrop's vote is now 102; Cobb, 65, and the balance scattering. It would seem to be the sole object of the Free Soil members to distract and defeat both Whigs and Democrats. If their object was the safety and prosperity as well of the South as the North they would evidence it by their action; but taking their action here as a rule by which to determine their ultimate object, it requires but little sagacity to discover that they aim to array the whole north against the slaveholding States, and at least use their best exertions to bring about a dissolution of the Union.

M. B. CORWIN.

Highly Important from Washington.

Great excitement in House!—Division threatened!—A Fight!—No choice of Speaker!

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Dec. 13.

The House met this morning. A motion was made to elect Speaker by ballot, and lost. Several hours were then spent by different members making speeches. The Southern members very emphatically declared themselves and the whole South ready to dissolve the Union if the Wilmot Provision were passed. They said they came prepared for this at all hazards.

During the debate some sharp words passed between Mr. Duer, of New York, and Mr. Meade, of Virginia, each calling the other a disunionist. Duer called Meade a liar!—Meade then rushed at him, and a general rush followed. The Sergeant-at-Arms appeared and commanded order!

A motion was made to adjourn, and was lost, amid great excitement. Order was finally restored. A duel is anticipated.

The debating continued till near four o'clock, when the first ballot was taken for Speaker, viva voce, and resulted as follows:

Winthrop, 59; Howell Cobb, 40; Potter, 24; Stanley, 21; Bayly, 26; Scatterling, 20. No choice.

The House then adjourned till tomorrow. The chances for an organization are very uncertain.

The Senate met and adjourned till tomorrow.—Journal despatches.

Democratic Meeting.

According to previous notice, the delegates from the different townships, met at Marysville, Dec. 14th, 1849. The meeting was organized by appointing JESSE GILL, Chairman, and SOLON HARRINGTON, Secretary.

On motion, a committee, consisting of Wm. D. W. Mitchell, A. A. Woodworth, and A. Richey, was appointed to draft resolutions for the consideration of the meeting. The committee, after an absence of a few minutes, returned and reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted.

1. Resolved, That we approve of the Convention, to be held at Columbus on the 8th of January next, to celebrate the victory of New Orleans, and nominate a Democratic candidate, for the next Governor of Ohio.

2. Resolved, That this meeting appoint two Delegates to the above named convention.

3. Resolved, That we, as democrats of Union County, will abide the nomination of said convention, and will use all fair and honorable means to secure the election of the nominee.

4. Resolved, That we are in favor of a more efficient organization of the Democratic party in Union County; and as "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," we will hereafter be more vigilant in the Democratic cause, and will use our best efforts to promote the same.

5. Resolved, That a Central Committee, consisting of seven persons, be appointed for the ensuing year, with power to make such arrangements for the more effectual organization of the Democratic party in this county, as they may think best.

6. Resolved, That we heartily condemn the "no party administration" of Gen. Zachary Taylor, and that instead of his having "no friends to reward, or enemies to punish," he has both rewarded and punished, without a parallel, in any former administration; and that, without asking, or caring, whether they were "honest or capable."

7. Resolved, That we are in favor of the freedom of the press, free speech, and free men.

8. Resolved, That we are in favor of the new constitution being so framed, that it will confer the greatest good on the greatest number.

On motion, Samuel Tyler, and Wm. D. W. Mitchell, were appointed to represent this county in the State Convention, for the nomination of a candidate for Governor, &c.

On motion, Joseph Bain, A. R. Hunter, S. F. Kinney, James Thompson, Adam Richey, A. A. Woodworth, and Wm. D. W. Mitchell, were appointed as the Central Committee for the ensuing year.

On motion, Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the "Ohio Statesman," and "Marysville Tribune."

On motion of Dr. Kinney, the meeting adjourned. JESSE GILL, Chm. SOLON HARRINGTON, Sec'y.

Proceedings in the Senate.

The editor of the Sandusky City Mirror, after giving from the Statesman the remarks of Senator Myers, and the proceedings of the first day, adds the following:

"The statement corroborates the views presented by us. It places the prima facie right of Johnson on the weakest ground which could have been assumed. Mark how Mr. Myers gives prominence to the parliamentary folly of Whitman. When only eighteen Senators were known by the Chairman to be in their places he suffers the 'Senator from Fairfield to move that Mr. Johnson be sworn in.' The question is a grave one, whether the Chair, by entertaining that motion did not abdicate his own control over the question whether the certificate was sufficient. The blunder was mutual.—Whitman treated the right of Johnson as open to a controversy, and then staked its vindication on a void vote, for such is any business' by less than a quorum. Myers, instead of putting down the pusill forwardness of Mr. Whitman, suffered the question to slip out of his hands, and now avows as the basis of Johnson's right to his seat and oath of office, that the vote was taken and pronounced carried."

"Every day that the democrats, in deference to the vanity and arrogance of Whitman attach any significance to the vote on his motion to swear in Johnson, they are weakening their cause."

The Senate—The very latest Phase of Outrage.

Yesterday afternoon the man who, by the vote of nine Senators, sits in the Speaker's chair, took another step in the progressive movement of the law breakers. The members of the Senate who uphold the law, refused to go into the election of officers till the Senator from the first district of Hamilton county was recognized by the Chair, or until some arrangement could be perfected by which the question could be settled. The terms proposed are before the people. They are such as are approved by all honest men not made blind and mad by party drill. As the locofocos of the Senate still refused to take any steps to settle this difficulty, the law-abiding members refused to go into an election. Yesterday, after voting several times, the Chairman announced a change in the programme. He said the Senate would proceed to ballot for Speaker. When remonstrated with, when told that the Senate had frequently refused by their votes to do so, the reply was, "the Senators will prepare their ballots."

Messrs. Burns and Beaver were appointed tellers. The result of that balloting can be seen by reference to our reports. Thirty-seven ballots were cast. Mr. Broadwell and Mr. Johnson both voted. The Chair observed that he noticed one of the tellers permitted a person to vote that the Chair did not recognize as a member of the Senate; and if he persisted in receiving his vote, he (the Chair) would be obliged to appoint another teller.—Mr. Beaver replied that the Chair appointed him, knowing his views about Broadwell's right to vote, and he would not refuse him that right. Another ballot was taken and the Senate adjourned till this morning.

To-day witnessed another very precious specimen of arrogance. The Clerk was directed by the Chairman to read over the list, of names of persons who would be permitted to vote. This list, of course, included Johnson, and excluded Broadwell. The Whig Senators entered their solemn protest against this whole proceeding. The Chair thinking, as Mr. Leiter did in the House, that all this would do "much harm," ordered the members to prepare their ballots. This was done. Several ballots were had, and there being no choice, the Senate adjourned till 3 o'clock.

What do the people of Ohio think of this proceeding?

POSTSCRIPT—4 O'clock P.M.

The Senate has taken a recess till tomorrow morning. 29 ballotings for Speaker. No choice. Randall 18; Swift 18. No prospect of an election. This morning Mr. Dennison, on the Whig side, and Mr. Dimmock, on the Loco side, withdrew their names. Randall and Swift are the only candidates.—O. S. Journal.

Some body who writes us a communication from Canton, devoted principally to an attack upon Mr. Leiter, is respectfully informed that his article is entirely out of place, and cannot appear in the Journal. We refer him to our views about these matters as published in the Journal last evening. We say to our friends you must come up to our standard about these things, or we shall firmly say "no." Our paper must not be the medium of personalities. We have set our aim higher. We believe the public sympathize with us and will sustain us.—O. S. Journal.

On the 15th Nov. the high court at Versailles, sentenced Ledru Rollin and 33 others implicated in the June insurrection, to transportation for life. Papers continue to be seized, and their editors tried for suppressing opinions considered detrimental to government. Twenty seats in the Assembly have been vacated by the convictions at Versailles. Louis Napoleon published a decree cashiering Pierre Bonaparte, thus depriving him of his rank of Chef de Battalion in the African Lancers, for alleged breach of good behavior.
